Antioch Lions Amend By-laws; Elect Monday

Fiscal Year Changed to Begin January Instead of July

Election of officers and other fiscal business of the Antioch Lions club will take place in January of each year instead of July as in the past, according to amendments made in the By-Laws of the club Monday evening. Other changes in the By-Laws call for the election of an assistant secretary and an assistant treasurer. Necessity for the change is the greatly enlarged membership of the club, according to Bud Arnold, secretary of the club who also pointed out that because of the nature of our season here that an election of officers in July breaks up the summer season, when the club is especially active.

All officers of the club were re-elected for the balance of the new fiscal year, and two additional officers as provided for in the change were elected. Homer La Plant will act as assistant secretary and William Brook was named assistant treasurer. All directors were also retained for the balance of the year.

Other business transacted included payment of bills and a discussion of the possibility of publication of a folder describing the attractions of the lake region. A committee was appointed to handle its issuance.

Newport Fire Protection District Seeks Antioch Fire Department Aid

Assistant Chief James McMillen and former chief Lou Van Patten of the Antioch Fire Department met with officials of the newly formed Newport township fire protection district this week to work out plans for the local department's participation in fire protection for the township.

It was decided that the Antioch department would serve the territory which is served by the local telephone exchange in order to facilitate calls in cases of fire. While the department has answered calls in Newport for many years, there was, in most cases, no payment made to the department. The Millburn Mutual Insurance company has, however, made payment to the department for calls no fires where the company carried insurance on the buildings.

The new arrangement calls for a set-up similar to the Antioch Fire Prevention district, with the department being paid monthly for services rendered. Chief Vos said at a meeting of the department Tuesday evening that one piece of equipment and eight firemen would be used on calls to Newport, in order to keep sufficient men and equipment in Antioch for possible calls here.

Plan Dance at Pregenzers' Picnic
A discussion of the plan to hold a dance at Pregenzers' when a new warehouse being built there is sufficiently completed was a feature of the meeting Tuesday evening. A report of the committee revealed that the building will be complete in about two weeks and announcement of the date for the dance will be made as soon as possible.

Also reported at Tuesday's meeting were plans for the Annual picnic for members of the Fire department and their families. Tentative plans set the date for the picnic as July 20, and it was decided to hold the picnic either at the Antioch Grade school or some other place in or near Antioch in order to keep enough firemen on hand to insure adequate fire protection.

Other business at the meeting included payment of bills and reports of committees. A report on the call to Pregenzers' Monday morning was made. The fire was caused by an overheated barrel of tar and was quickly extinguished by the department. Damage was small.

AMERICAN LEGION AUX. TO HOLD MEETING FRI.

The Antioch Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting at the Legion hall, Friday evening. There will be regular order of business and initiation of candidates. Entertainment is planned by the social committee following the business session.

C. L. Kutil entertained the members of the High school judging teams at a lawn party at his home Tuesday evening. A weiner roast, cake and ice cream were enjoyed by all present.

Wm. Thiemann is Recovering From 10 Days Illness

Superintendent of Streets William Thiemann returned to his home Tuesday afternoon, after being hospitalized for several days. "Bill" had been ill for about a week at his home before being taken to Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, for treatment. He is reported to be much improved and will be up and around in a week or so.

Antioch Fire Dept. Host to 150 Co. Firemen Monday

Antioch Fire department played host to more than 150 members of the Lake County Firemen's Association Monday evening. The meeting was held at the Guild hall. Mike Reimers, Grayslake, was inducted as new president of the Association, taking over the duties of "Barney" Barnstable, Lake Villa, former president. Bob Burleigh, Fox Lake, is the new vice-president for the coming year.

Main discussions at the meeting centered around the projected building of a drill tower for use of all firemen in the county. The building of the tower would enable county firemen to obtain state fire schools here instead of traveling to Bloomington or some other locality, where the equipment is available. Libertyville is the site chosen for the tower.

Beef sandwiches were served to guests, as well as other refreshments, and assistant Chief McMillen showed movies of the Chicago Bears- Green Bay Packers football game.

6000 Attend First Lake County Picnic

Although the weather was chilly it did not cool the enthusiasm of the more than 6000 people who attended the first Lake County picnic at the Gages Lake Picnic Grounds according to Farm Adviser, Ray T. Nicholas. It seemed that every farm family in Lake County was present to enjoy the entertainment and fun which the committee had planned.

The highlight of the day's many events was the selection of the Lake County "Farm Queen" and Lake County "City Queen." Betty Jean Kaiser, 15, representing the Druce Lake 4-H club, and a Junior in the Warren Township High school was voted Farm Queen from among a list of twenty-four candidates representing as many 4-H Clubs. Donna Satterfield, 15, and representing Barnett's Dress Shop was voted City Queen from a list of 12 candidates. Donna is a Junior at the Waukegan Township High school. To each of the queens went an array of prizes including a 500 mile airplane trip, nylons, jewelry, portraits, wearing apparel, credit slips and cash.

Another outstanding event of the day, and one which attracted the attention of all present was the WLS Dinnerbell broadcast direct from the picnic grounds, under the direction of Art Page, who interviewed several local people including Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas, Home Adviser Helen Volk, Farm Bureau President E. E. Elsbury; Home Bureau President Mrs. Carl Fink, A. H. Kohlbusch, C. W. Wray, Leona Wegener and Marvin Wirtz.

The special entertainment from WLS featuring the Linder Sisters, Connie and Bonnie, The Sage Riders, and Stanley Rich proved a real hit with the crowd. Another popular offering was the music provided by Stefan's 50 piece accordion band.

So successful was the event that consideration is already being given to planning an even bigger all Lake County Picnic for 1947.

Raymond Toft to be Tester for Lake Co. Herd Improvement

Raymond Toft, a recent graduate of the Antioch High School, is at the College of Agriculture University of Illinois this week taking an intensive course in Herd Improvement. He has accepted a position as tester with The Lake County Herd Improvement Association with headquarters at Grayslake, Illinois. His work will take him to some of the best dairy herds of Lake County where he will weigh and test the milk of individual cows and keep records of their production.

Toft has been a very active member of the Antioch Chapter of The Future Farmers of America and a recent blue ribbon winner at the Illinois Poultry Judging Contest at Urbana, Illinois.

Exempts 18 Year Olds in New Measure

The Senate and House conferees on draft legislation agreed this week on a compromise measure for the drafting of 18-year-olds and extending the Selective Service act to March 31, 1947. Eighteen year-olds escape the draft under the measure.

The conferees also agreed on a separate bill to provide pay increases for all personnel of the armed forces, from the lowest grade to five-star admiral and general-in hopes of stimulating voluntary enlistments. The pay boosts will cost an estimated $632,000,000 annually.

Senators Back Again
The Senate conferees surrendered on their demand for drafting 18-year-olds when they were faced with the threat of Chairman May (Dem., Ky.) that they must eliminate it or "have no bill at all."

Selective Service officials immediately said the legislation, without the provision for drafting 18-year-olds, was "a gamble" with the manpower needs of the Army and Navy. They declared that the draft calls, which have been averaging 50,000 men a month, could not be met unless the pay increase vastly stimulated voluntary enlistments.

Other Provisions of Bill
The compromise draft measure also:

1. Eliminated all occupational deferments except for farmers.
2. Removed all provisions for a draft holiday, as well as suggestions to defer scientific students.
3. Eliminated restrictions on overseas service.

The bill provides for a top draft age of 45 years, which was agreed to several days ago. It also bans induction of fathers, provides that fathers now in service may be discharged upon request after Aug. 1, and that men with 18 months of service will be let out after Oct. 1.

Draft of Vets Limited
It also prohibits the drafting of veterans with overseas service or those who have served six months in the United States.

Pay Increases Listed
The pay increases voted for the Army and commensurate ranks in the Navy are: privates, from $50 to $75 a month; privates first class, $54 to $80; corporals, $66 to $90; sergeants, $75 to $100; staff sergeants, $96 to $115; technical sergeants, $114 to $135, and top-grade sergeants, $138 to $165.

Army lieutenants and those of similar naval rank would receive a 20 per cent salary increase; captains and senior naval lieutenants a 15 per cent increase, and all officers above the Army rank of major and naval rank of lieutenant commander, 10 per cent.

GI Benefits Paid To 107,780 Vets Unemployed in May

Slow progress of industrial reconversion plus continued high rate of discharges from the army and navy kept readjustment allowance payments to unemployed veterans at their recent high levels during May, State Director of Labor Robert L. Gordon reported today.

Readjustment allowance payments for May totaled $7,647,629 and were made to 107,780 unemployed war veterans in Illinois. Director Gordon said, "This compared with $6,684,471 paid to 104,080 jobless GI's in April and with $98,761 to 1,187 unemployed veterans in May last year."

"In Chicago, 52,280 GI veterans received $3,608,218 during May," Gordon continued. "This compared with 49,420 who drew $3,085,871 during the preceding month."

How To Qualify
To be eligible for readjustment allowance under the GI Bill, an unemployed veteran must have served 90 days or more, and after September 16, 1940, in the military or naval forces. If discharged for illness or disability incurred in line of duty, he may be eligible if he has served 16 days or more and after September 16, 1940. Benefits are $20 a week for total unemployment and are payable from a minimum period of 8 weeks to a total of 52 weeks between now and two years after the end of the war. The number of weeks for which a veteran is eligible is determined on a sliding scale based on the duration of his service. Benefits may be for weeks of either consecutive or intermittent unemployment.

In addition to meeting Federal requirements, the claimant for readjustment allowance must meet certain requirements of State law. He must be registered for work with the United States Employment Service, be able to work full time at regular employment, and be available to accept an offer of suitable work.

Many Attend First Week at Antioch Grade Recreation

More than ninety children of school age attended the sessions this week at Antioch Grade school's annual summer recreation program. The program started last Monday and attendance was far above expectations.

All children of the community are invited to attend the program, which will run five days a week until August 2.

Children of the first three grades and pre-school age are invited to attend from 10:00 a. m. until noon and children of the upper grades in the afternoon from 1:00 p. m. until 3:30.

Boat Races to Be Held on Fox Lake June 30

Expect Record Entry For Second Meet of 1946 Season

A record entry is expected at the second meet sponsored by the racing committee of the Chain O' Lakes boat club next Sunday, June 30, at Columbia Bay, Fox Lake. The starting line will be placed on the pier of the Bohemian Yacht club.

Many of the boats which were not ready for the meet June 16 will be on hand to compete in seven classes, according to information furnished by F. S. Pavitt, secretary of the club.

The Viking, last year's fastest class E boat, will be ready for Sunday's races as will be the "Panic" a class D job which has not made an appearance since the start of the war. Artie Strand's Ladybug, a consistent winner in the class E division will also be on hand. It is doubtful whether or not Joe Frieslinger will have his highly touted Ventnor racer ready for the meet the 30th, but fans are advised to watch the new boat when it makes a first appearance, as Joe has been told by the builder that the boat tested at a speed of better than 60 miles per hour at the factory. This speed is several miles per hour faster than anything we have on the lakes at present and will call for some "souping up" of the other class E jobs if they are to have a chance.

Cesare Molinari's Anna, newly powered for this season with a 175 horse power Lycoming motor, is expected to make some of the old timers look to their laurels, when the necessary tune up and experimental stage is over. The Anna has shown great speed and handiness in preliminary tests.

Other events to be featured on the program will include a 108 horse power and under race, a class for class "D" racing runabouts (222 cubic inch motors); and two heats of the class E. Outboard events will include Class C service and Class C racing runabouts and other races to fit boats which are ready to race.

Mrs. Peggy LaBella returned to Rockford Tuesday, after spending the past month at the home of her uncle, Walter Hills, and family.

Week-end Lake Accident Costs Life of Girl

Sailor Slightly Hurt When Earl Hucker's Peggy G Upsets

The first fatal accident of the boating season on the Chain O'Lakes occurred Sunday afternoon when a speed boat driven by Paul H. Rasmussen, Chicago, struck Nancy Waterbury, 20, of Chicago, as she was swimming in Fox Lake near the Nippersink, Fox Lake channel.

Rasmussen, who had just started out from Kramer's boathouse for a ride, saw the swimming girl too late to avoid striking her. The boat's propeller caused abdominal injuries which resulted in her death almost immediately. She had been warned that the waters adjacent to the channel were too dangerous for bathing on account of the marine traffic just previous to the accident which caused her death.

Rasmussen was required to post a $500 bond to insure his appearance as a material witness at the inquest to be held in Antioch on July 11.

Peggy G Upset on Grass Lake

James Carley, a Naval officer stationed at Great Lakes, was the only person injured when the Peggy G, well known race boat of the Chain O' Lakes, tipped over in Grass Lake with six persons aboard. Carley was cut on the cheek and received other minor cuts about the head when the propeller of the overturned craft struck him. Earl Hucker, driver of the boat said that he had been following another speed boat and in passing had been caught in the wash and flipped over. Other passengers in the boat included Mrs. Hucker and their two sons and a friend of Carley's.

Hucker said today that no extensive damage had been done to the boat and that the "Peggy G" would be in shape for the races this Sunday.

Walleyes on Increase In Chain O' Lakes

That plantings of walleye pike made during the past few years by the Illinois Conservation department are beginning to bear is evidenced by the catch of a six-pound fish of the specie this week at Holmes' Indian Point resort. The fish was caught Saturday by Marty Scheller, of Chicago.

This is the third walleye of goodish size that has been reported to the News this season. A six-pound specimen was found on Columbia bay earlier this spring dead trying to swallow a large bluegill, and a large one was brought in at the Otis Hotel last weekend.

It is believed that a good many more would be caught if sportsmen of the region would fish exclusively for them as most of the catches are made accidentally, while fishing for bass or some other kind of fish.

Cong. Church Hits Surplus Property Disposal Agencies

In a speech on the Floor of the House, Congressman Ralph E. Church (R), 10th District, Illinois, stressed the need for a thorough investigation of the disposal of surplus property, but opposed the establishment of a special committee for this purpose.

"The policies, procedures and regulations being followed in connection with the disposal of surplus property are scandalous," said Congressman Church. He argued that the "bureaucratic Frankenstein that the War Assets Administration represents, with its mass of red tape" is actually destroying the purpose of the Surplus Property Act.

Church presented a War Assets Administration directive which showed that no less than 23 different types of releases are used by that administration in governing the agency. He claimed "the regulations that had been issued fill volumes and would require seven hours of every employee's day to read them."

Church argued that while an investigation should be authorized, it should be handled by the Committee on Expenditures in Executive Departments, rather than by a special committee. He called attention to the recommendation of the joint committee on the Organization of Congress for a discontinuance of the "practice of creating special committees of investigation." Church pointed out that the Committee on Expenditures in Executive Departments has already begun an investigation of surplus property and to create a special committee would represent a duplication of that work. Church said, "We talk long, loud and often about the duplications in the Executive branch of the government and it seems to me that we who constitute the legislative branch should ourselves avoid duplications."

Legion Team Is Set for Donkey Game

Lose to Volo; Win From Teen Ageds This Week

With old man weather smiling on the local diamond this week, the local Legion team got into the swing and games have been resumed.

The locals suffered a loss at the hands of a Volo team on Tuesday evening, but came back to win a game from O. S. Klass's teen age team on Wednesday.

The number two team, composed of members of the squad, will play a game tomorrow night with a team from the North Chicago Hardware Foundry.

Donkey Ball Game July 3

Real entertainment for fans will be provided next Wednesday evening when the locals mount donkeys for a game. The donkey game will be the second half of a "double-header," the number two team will be featured in the opener with a still to be chosen opponent.

Advance sale of tickets indicates a good turnout for the game, and Ed Frazier, director for the Legion athletic program, said today that fans at the game are assured a real evening's entertainment.

SAFE RECREATION

In all the ambitious postwar programs put forth by American communities for tackling juvenile delinquency, one cardinal principle is emphasized over and over again: Give the youngsters things to do and places to do them and they'll keep out of trouble.

It remained for a Macon, Ga. (pop. 57,865), pool hall operator to be first in his calling to find a way to keep 'teen-agers out of billiard parlors, where influences are not always of the best.

The poolroom proprietor, Roy Candy, presented a $700 table, complete with cues, balls and chalk, to Macon's new $46,000 "teen-age recreational center" which is being sponsored by the city's First Christian Church for youths of all creeds.

Candy, who has promised to pay for upkeep of the table, admits his gesture will cost him a good deal of the younger trade. But he thinks it will be better all around if boys are a little older before they frequent pool parlors.

"I'd rather have the kids play here, in this atmosphere," he told the Rev. Cecil A. Denny, pastor of First Church. "It's better."

A meeting of the newly organized Lake Region Young Peoples Fellowship, will be held at the church in Lake Villa Sunday evening, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. All young people of the Lakes Region are invited to attend. Mrs. T. Brannen, of Silver Lake, a Gospel Artist, will entertain with pictures and a talk. Phyllis Pankin, of Silver Lake will lead the Singing. There will be other special features of entertainment.

Mental Hazard

By BERT R. FERRIS

McClure Syndicate,
WNU Features.

VALERIE hummed softly as she spooned the coffee into the silex and plugged it in. She was thinking—thinking hard. She knew what was wrong with Monte, but she didn't know what to do about it. The sports writers were calling him a hoary veteran, and the arm they had so short a time before proclaimed as the "greatest" in baseball, they now glibly referred to as "Monte Cleveland's six-inning flipper."

Monte crumpled the paper and strode angrily about the room. "So I've got a six-inning flipper, have I?" he snarled. "Leo is a softhearted old woman for starting me today, is he? Just wait until this afternoon, I'll show 'em a six-inning flipper! And I'll let 'em look at it for a full nine frames, too!"

Valerie was careful not to hint of sympathy should creep into her voice when she said quietly, "I'll wait, honey. And I'll be right there when you show them."

"Atta girl!" He caught her to him in a quick hug of appreciation. "It will help a lot just to know that after the game, you'd better be early, though, there'll be a mob out to watch this play-off. You don't go for that junk, do you, Val?" he asked. "You don't believe the old soup bone is gone . . . that I'm washed up with the game . . . that Leo is a softhearted old . . .?"

"I don't even read it," she interrupted with a lie. "You know your arm is still good, Leo knows you are still a starting pitcher, and after today the sports writers will be telling the world about it."

"You're mighty well right they will!" Monte said between clenched teeth. "What do those guys expect a ball player to do when he reaches 38, hang up his glove and collapse into a wheel chair?"

Monte read the few lines.

But Monte Cleveland knew he was whistling in the dark. Even now there was a painful twinge in his shoulder. And he knew that after two or three innings his arm would be numb. By the end of the sixth he would be tossing them up so any school kid could find them.

As Monte walked toward the mound, Valerie waved her little blue hat at him from the first row in the upper stands.

He pitched carefully. At the end of four innings only 12 batters had faced him. His own team had batted twice through the order and were out in front 2-0.

In the fifth he was forced to bear down all the way, and as he walked to the bench he felt that every ounce of strength had left him. His shoulder was thumping and his arm hung like a piece of lead pipe.

"Here's a note your wife sent down," the coach said, handing him a torn piece of score card.

Monte read the few lines, ripped the paper into bits and flung them away. His eyes were stormy. He looked into the stands. The blue hat was gone. He pulled the peak of his cap low, stepped in on the rubber and sent his famous fireball sizzling across the inside corner.

Monte got set for the next pitch. "Goin' into the sixth and she pulls out to have a cocktail with a friend!" he muttered to himself. "That's O. K. with me!" The crashing impact of his delivery rocked the catcher, Gabe Hart, back on his heels. Monte stabbed the ball out of the air, wound up and whipped a vicious outside hook past the batter for the third strike.

In the last three innings Monte made but 11 pitches—pitches that brought a hundred thousand fans to their feet to scream themselves hoarse.

Valerie was waiting alone at the south gate, and Monte stopped short, astonished. "Where's your friend?" he asked. "You missed a good game."

"Oh, Monte," she said softly, coming close to him. "I'm so happy! I . . . I think I'm going to cry."

"What's the idea of running out on me?" he demanded. "I'm out there biting my tongue out with every heave, and you . . ."

"I didn't run out on you, sweetheart," Val said. "I only moved to the lower stand and took off my hat. I sent you that note to make you fighting mad. You see, honey, as I watched you through the first innings, it occurred to me that the sixth had come to be a bad mental hazard for you, and I felt sure that if you were to get downright mad . . . oh, darling, you were wonder-

May Phone From Moving Train

This Dazzling Prediction Is Made After 70 Years of Telephone Service.

CHICAGO. — Before long you may be able to take up a telephone in a private booth on a speeding train and talk to your wife or office 1,000 miles away. The same service may be available to passengers on luxury airliners, says the Chicago Tribune.

Dazzling? Sure. But there's no doubt that new techniques developed in war research have unlocked vast new fields for the telephone, which first was used 70 years ago, on March 10, 1876, to be exact.

Some time in the future a telephone subscriber may be able to dial a toll call straight across the nation, just as he now dials from his office to his home. The charge would be automatically computed and recorded at the telephone exchange.

Nation-wide dialing by long distance operators already is on the way. The American Telephone and Telegraph company says that within a few years operators will be dialing straight across the continent.

When this is adopted, A. T. & T. may divide the nation into 60 or 70 "numbering plan areas," each designated by a code.

How It Works.

If a call were being made from Chicago to Market 2-2100 at Newark, N. J., the Chicago operator would determine that New Jersey's area code was, say, 312 and would dial 312 followed by the listed number MA 2-2100.

A device already has been invented which, if no one answers, tells you: "There is no one here, but if you want to leave a message it will be transcribed."

Two-way voice communication by radio-telephone between motor vehicles already is here. Business concerns are using it for delivery trucks, taxi fleets, repairmen, buses and harbor and river craft. The Bell system says telephones in cars, trucks, and other mobile units will be connected with the general telephone system.

If a man wants to talk from his desk to the occupant of an automobile, Bell explains, he will first dial or ask for the mobile service operator. He will give her the call number or designation of the vehicle. She will send out a signal by dialing the call number. A tone or a light will indicate to the car occupant that he is wanted.

He will pick up his dashboard telephone, and the conversation starts. The driver of a mobile unit can originate calls merely by pushing the "talk" button to signal the operator.

When Bell Talked.

All this is a far cry from the day 70 years ago when Alexander Graham Bell first talked over a wire. Bell's first telephone patent was granted March 7, 1876, but at first earned no return. It was not until May, 1877, that the first telephones were put into use commercially.

At the end of 1945, there were 22,445,500 Bell system telephones in service, plus more than 5,400,000 operated by some 6,000 other companies.

Through radio-telephone, a phone user in this country can be connected with any one of more than 46 million telephones in service in the world. The radio-telephone provides direct communication between the United States and 39 foreign points.

The United States already has over 50 per cent of the world's telephones, and A. T. & T. has a huge backlog of orders delayed by the war. During the last quarter of 1945 the gain in telephones totaled 560,000—the highest in any quarter in history.

Soldier Mail in Pacific

To Be Delivered by Air

TOKYO. — Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that all soldier mail would start moving by air from both sides of the Pacific immediately.

Instructions have been issued that air mail, official and registered mail be given No. 1 priority both ways across the Pacific on regularly scheduled air transport command aircraft. All passenger and cargo air traffic will thus be discontinued for a time.

MacArthur disclosed plans to move large quantities of air mail from Tokyo and Manila to the United States by using all available army and navy air transport command and theater combat aircraft moving in the Pacific toward the United States.

Robert B. Burke United in Marriage With Kenosha Girl

The Rev. Fred E. Frankson, Th. D., heard the marriage vows of Miss Esther Helena Larsen and Robert Benton Burke in mid-June rites at the First Methodist church in Kenosha, Wisconsin, Saturday evening at 7:30. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Harold G. Larsen, of Seattle, Washington. Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Burke, of Antioch. Miss Larsen has been making her home with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Langren, 4316 Sixty-fifth St., Kenosha.

For her wedding at which Mrs. William Klingaman sang "Because" and "At Dawning," the bride chose a gown of slipper satin and mouseline de soi with long train, and her fingertip veil was attached to a chantilly lace Juliet cap held at the temples with orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Lloyd Jordan, whose crepe gown was in an aqua shade fashioned similar to that of the bride, her hat and gloves were of matching shade, her bouquet was of talisman roses, daisies and yellow carnations. In peach gowns were the bridesmaids, Miss Marian S. Lee, Coon Valley, Wis.; Miss Marilyn Proksh, La Crosse, Wis.; Miss Audrey Bystrom, Virginia, Minn.; and Miss Barbara Heimerl, Medford, Wis. Their colonial bouquets were made up of talisman roses, blue delphinium and yellow daisies.

John Morgan, of Nashota, Wisconsin, was best man, and ushers were Ted Larson, of Antioch, Lloyd Jordan, Kenosha; George Dalgety, Evanston; and Lloyd White, of Waukegan. One hundred and seventy-five guests attended the reception which was held following the ceremonies at the Kenosha Woman's club.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke left for a honeymoon trip through northern Michigan and Canada. They will be at home in Antioch for the summer. The Mmes. Joseph Weber, Myron Marsner, Phil Newman and Harold G. Larsen, Miss Marilyn Monteen and Miss Carol Nielsen poured at the reception.

Both young people hold B. S. degrees from Stout Institute and are now on the faculty of the Plymouth, Michigan high school. Mr. Burke, who attended Beloit college for two years before going to Stout is a member of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, will teach industrial arts, his bride is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary professional home economics fraternity and of the Hyperian Sorority, will be an instructor in home economics.

Among parties given for the bride-elect was one given by her aunts the Mmes. P. P. M. Jorgensen, A. S. Nielsen and H. L. Cheever were hostesses and another at which Mrs. Lloyd Jordan was hostess.

COSGROVES ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Cosgrove, of Antioch, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to Mr. Joseph Pachay, son of Mrs. Caroline Pachay, of Antioch. The wedding will take place in St. Peter's church, September twenty-first.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary Sunday at their home on Grand Avenue, east of Lake Villa. All of their seven children were present except Captain William Jr., who is stationed in Oklahoma. Thirty-five relatives from Chicago, Rockford, Libertyville, Waukegan and Lake Villa were present. Dinner was served at one o'clock.

WESLEY CIRCLE TO HOLD MEETING JULY 10

The regular monthly business meeting of the Wesley Circles will be held Wednesday, July 10, instead of the regular date, at the home of Mrs. W. R. Williams, 712 North Main St. All members are requested to be present. Guests are invited.

Mrs. J. H. Summers and Gordon Laugen, of Chicago, called on friends in Antioch, Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Webb served as worthy Matron in Wilmot, Wisconsin, Chapter O. E. S. Wednesday evening. The occasion being friends night. Olive Keulman served as Warder. Others attending were: Sophia Hennings; Deborah VanPatten; Nellie Hanke; Blanche Shannon; Myrtle Klass; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rosenfeld; Ida Osmond; Clara Westlake; Selma Trieger; Lena Kuhaupt; Ann Heath; Maud Sabin and Margaret Gaston.

Cancer Treatment

Treatment of cancer anywhere in the mouth is essentially a radiologic problem, to be treated with radioactive substances or x-rays, since only a small number of cases are entirely suitable for surgery, the doctors said, pointing out that there were only three patients in a five year survival group who were treated entirely with surgery.

Library News

(By Lee Meinersmann)

All children who are interested in helping make book-marks, should come to the library on Saturday morning, June 29, at ten-thirty o'clock.

When a writer whose works reflect his tender, compassionate nature turns to the harshness of war, the result may have a somewhat unreal quality. So it is with William Saroyan's "Adventures of Wesley Jackson." Wesley was eighteen when the story opens, without a job, and definitely opposed the Army, but the Army gets him anyway. His father had fought in the last war and was an emotional casualty. Wesley was supposed to realize his father's dreams for him, but Wesley too was only reaping disillusionment. A high spot in the book occurs when Wesley, through the influence of "The Writer," sends some prose to the New Republic, which prints it. For four pages, Wesley weeps in reaction to the published prose—the most outstanding and highly humorous scene in the whole book.

Other new books this week, Adult, "Lustre in the Sky, by Waldeck; "Lou Gehrig," by Graham; "Managing a Farm," by Johnson; "Narcotics and Drug Addiction," by Hesse; "Audel's book of Electricity," by Graham; "Singing Waters," by Bridges. Juvenile, "Star in the Willows, by Eyre; "Wagner," by Hunt; "Now Listen, Warden," by Holland.

Miss Mary Louise Peterson, of Burbank, California, was the guest of Mrs. Augusta Carlson, of Indian Point, this week.

Mrs. Clara Willett and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Willett are vacationing at the home of Mrs. Willett's sister, Mrs. Victoria Osborn, at Ludington, Michigan. Mrs. Osborn held a reunion for her three sisters and a brother, Mrs. Jennie Baxter, of Downers Grove; Mrs. Emily Daniels, of Walled Lake, Michigan; Mrs. Willett, of Antioch; and Fred Croasdale, of Stephenville, Michigan. Dinner was served to twenty-five guests and a marshmallow roast was enjoyed at twilight on the beach of Lake Michigan, at Ludington. This is the first reunion the Croasdale family have had for the past twenty years.

N. Hilbert and George Wagner of the Antioch Milling Company recently returned from St. Louis, Mo., where they attended an intensive course in Sanitation for poultry and livestock. The course was given by specialists of Ralston Purina Company's livestock and poultry feed division, and they were conducted through Ralston Purina's Research Farm at Gray Summit, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Runyard spent several days in Hampshire the guests of D. B. Baldwin and family and also were guests of Miss Iva Baldwin in Elgin, last week.

Card Of Thanks
We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to the Antioch Rescue squad and to all our friends for the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement in the loss of our loved one.

Attention!

Gutter and Downspout
Materials are Now Available

During the war, when these materials were not available, your gutter system may have become run down, and is not carrying water from your roof away from the foundation of your house.

Settling of your house from roof water seeping into the ground around the foundation can cause all sorts of trouble, including cracking of the foundation walls, sticking doors and windows, uneven floors, peeling of exterior paint, etc.

The cost of rebuilding or renewing your gutter system will be repaid many times over in savings throughout the house.

Phone 113 for an inspection and estimate of the cost of putting your gutters and downspouts in good condition.

Don't Delay—Action now will save trouble later on!

Farm Output

Although mechanization in the United States has been slower in farming than in manufacturing, productivity per farmer working unit is estimated to have increased between 1889 and 1937 at an average rate of 2.1 per cent per year. Output per agricultural worker tends to increase most rapidly when farm income is high and equipment and fertilizer can be bought liberally, or when labor is scarce, or when an abnormal demand for increased agricultural yield exists.

Tomato Juice

Tomato juice may be substituted measure for measure, for tomatoes in soups, sauces, or baked dishes. When using commercial tomato juices, be sure to examine the label to see if spices have been added before you add more seasoning. A dish made with tomato juice will not have quite the same color as a dish made with tomatoes. The color will usually be more of a light orange shade than the bright red of tomatoes.

Road Surfaces

While 83 per cent of the 563,520 miles of state-controlled highways were surfaced, only 73 per cent of the 304,000 miles of municipal streets and alleys and 49 per cent of the 1,928,000 miles of county and local roads have all-weather treatment. By surfacing is meant construction of concrete, asphalt and tar coating, gravel or stabilized earth.

Rapid Succession

In 1841 three United States Presidents held the office within a little more than a month. When Martin Van Buren's term ended on March 4, 1841, he was succeeded by William Henry Harrison who died on April 4, 1841, and John Tyler, Vice President, took the oath of office as President two days later.

Teach Swimming

An appalling number of lives were lost during the first part of World War II because many servicemen of the warring nations did not know how to swim. As a result, efforts have been made in several countries to introduce compulsory swimming courses in all schools and colleges.

From Small Acorns—

Henry Cobbs, the mail order fruit king of Miami, Fla., started with $10 and ran it up to a million dollars a year business in 12 years. Cobbs started locally in Miami, using $3.50 of his capital to buy lumber and white paint for his first store.

Paint Must Be Stirred

Any paint composed of oil and pigment must be thoroughly stirred before it is used. No matter how good the paint is, it should not be expected to adhere to or cover the surface properly until the oil and pigment have been thoroughly mixed by stirring.

Giant Bearings

The navy's mighty 16-inch battle-ship rifles obtain their ease of mobility from the giant ball and roller bearings on which the gun turrets are mounted. A single roller in one of these bearings, of which there are often a dozen or more, weighs 770 pounds.

Best Eating

Bananas are in the ideal stage for eating fresh fruit out of hand when the peel is golden yellow flecked with brown which indicates the flesh inside is mellow and fully sweet.

Stay Close to Ground

The expression "weather so bad the birds are walking" has some basis in fact. Birds will not fly out of sight of the ground when there is a thick fog.

Little Women

The most popular girls' book ever written in America was "Little Women." This autobiographical novel was written in 1868 by Louisa May Alcott.

Greasy Sink

A very greasy sink may be cleaned if dusted well with scouring powder, then sprinkled with ammonia. A heavy rag and hot water will do the rest.

Shady Fruit Richer

Recent tests of tangerines show that the fruit picked from the shady side of the tree averaged 25 per cent richer in carotene, pro-vitamin A, than the fruit from the sunny side.

Bathtub Ring

You might be able to prevent that ring around the bathtub by sprinkling a couple of tablespoons of water softener in the bath water.

Coal Chutes

Coal chutes capable of dumping 43 tons of coal in 75 seconds are now in use for the refueling of locomotives.

Cheddar Cheese

Cheddar cheese was introduced into the United States by early British settlers.

I Work for a Dame

By ETHELYN PARKINSON
McClure Syndicate—WNU Features.

I GUESS everybody's heard who my boss is this summer, but no one's going to rib me. My boss has a cooler business head than any man in the contracting business. I know that—now.

Before school was out the gang began to brag about their vacation jobs. Jack was going to the railroad shops, eight-hour days at 65 cents per. Jerry got in at the Main Street Tire and Battery. It was just my luck to have to work for a dame, and my aunt at that!

I didn't have much choice. Dad's in service—he was a captain in the first war. Mom's jittery about "bringing up" Sis and me alone. "I won't have to worry, Milton, if you're under your Aunt Alice's eye."

"But, mom, how can I tell Mary Ellen or the fellows that I'm working for a da—a lady? And Aunt Alice calls me 'dear'! She doesn't know I've grown up since she read Peter Rabbit to me. If you want me to learn the contractor's business, there's Mr. Trathen. His offices are right across from Aunt Alice's. She could still keep an eye on me."

Mom got stern, for her. "Milton, this is settled. You will work for Aunt Alice until she discharges you."

Aunt Alice had me running a mimeograph and the switchboard. I was under her eye, all right. I guess I wasn't too smart, and I spent lots of time mooning across at Mr. Trathen's offices but Aunt Alice didn't mind.

Then Mr. Trathen advertised for a boy. I wished I could get Aunt Alice to fire me. One day I was thinking hard about that and suddenly I happened to make a little clicking noise with my tongue. Aunt Alice was bending over some papers and I saw her wince. I had it! I knew how to make her get rid of me!

I had a date with Mary Ellen that night, so I experimented. About the third time I clicked my tongue she blew up. "For goodness' sake, Milt, do you have to keep clicking that way? It's a terribly annoying habit."

I hoped so. I practiced a lot when I was alone.

On Sunday I went out to dinner with Mom and Sis. Almost without thinking, I clicked my tongue. Sis jumped on me. I was getting good.

Monday I started working on Aunt Alice. The first time I clicked in her office, I didn't look at her. The next day I clicked twice while she was busiest. She didn't look up but she said, "Milton, did you deliver the Branson blueprints?" It was working!

By Thursday I could see that I was getting on Aunt Alice's nerves. I wasn't surprised, Saturday, when she called me in. "Milton," she said, "I promised your mother I'd see to you all summer. But I suspect you'd like to work for a man, and Mr. Trathen has asked for you. Would you like to go to work for him Monday?"

"Oh, boy!" She kind of winced, and I realized I'd clicked my tongue. "Of course, if you need me—"

"I want you to be happy, dear. Mr. Trathen is high-strung. Irascible at times. Don't let him frighten you."

Monday, Mr. Trathen's receptionist leered at me. "Funniest faces, in the newest places," she said. I was the fifth office boy in three weeks, she meant. But I wasn't working for her.

"Hey, boy!" Mr. Trathen yelled, "run this through the mimeo." The machine was in the corner of his room and he was dictating. But all of a sudden he changed his mind about me. "Hey, boy! Miss Smith can do that. You take these reports across the river."

I really worked that day. My legs were too tired to take me on a date that night. I hoped I'd be in the office the next day—and I was, for a while. In no time Mr. Trathen stopped dictating and roared, "Boy! Miss Smith has some errands for you."

At the end of two weeks I was petrified. One Saturday evening Aunt Alice came over and asked me to show her my garden. Outside, she put her arm around me. "Milton," she said, "would you like to come back to work for me?"

Suddenly I knew that was the only thing in the world I wanted. I'm over 16 and almost 6 feet tall, but I might near bawled, I was so glad. "But—Mr. Trathen—"

"Mr. Trathen came over to say it would be all right."

"He—did?" I gasped. "He—fired me?"

"Maybe," Aunt Alice laughed. "I know I've been preoccupied. But I'd have noticed if you had any annoying habits. Mr. Trathen's henny. He says you get on his nerves with some boyish mannerism—clicking your tongue, I believe he mentioned!"

Keep Track of Kiddle

Much worry over children's whereabouts can be avoided by keeping a small pad beside the door or telephone with the children understanding that when they go out they must write down where they are and the name of the friend they will be with.

HICKORY

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cobelli, of Hayward, Wis., visited from Thursday until Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wells and family.

Milton Smith and Allen Latham left on Friday for Champaign where they are attending summer school.

Miss Caryl Tillotson, of Rochelle, was home over the weekend. Monday June 24, was her parents' 35th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pedersen, Sr., have purchased a home on Lake St., Antioch, and are moving there this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gnorski and children, of North Chicago, called at the Wilbur Hunter home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Phillips, of Rosecrans, have a 6½ pound daughter, born at Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, on Saturday, June 22.

Wilbur Hunter and son, Jerry, also Roger Nothing, of Mundelein, attended the show at the Waukegan Air-port Sunday afternoon. They also called on the Carl Humer family near there.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Paulsen were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Dorsey at Lake Villa. It was in honor of James' birthday anniversary. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fitzgerald and children, of Wadsworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson King, of Libertyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gehrand, of Beloit, Wis., were Sunday afternoon and evening guests at the Earle Crawford home.

Mrs. Russell Stearns spent Sunday with her friend, Miss Shirley Wells. Sunday evening the Rod Ames, Andrew Magiera and Emil Hallwas families were guests at the Curtis Wells home and helped Miss Shirley celebrate her birthday anniversary, with birthday cake and ice cream.

LAKE VILLA

Mr. Ray Biggers, a student at Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, conducted the worship service at the Community church last Sunday, and on next Sunday, the regular pastor, the Rev. Ray Pierson, will be back to conduct the services. He was married on Monday, June 17, to Miss Martha Cramer, at Pittsburgh and they returned this week to their home at the parsonage here.

Because of many reasons, among them the food situation, the Woman's Society of Christian Service has postponed the annual Mother-Daughter banquet, about which there have been many inquiries as it is a popular event, until fall when it is hoped that some situations may have cleared up. In the meantime the ladies have set Wednesday, July 24, as the date of the annual summer sale of rugs, aprons, etc., and the white elephant sale at the school gymnasium. Doors open at 12 noon, followed by dessert luncheon and card party. Sale continues throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. Clarence Blumenschein and Avlyn Schneider went to South Bend, Ind., Saturday to spend two weeks at the Gordon Blumenschein home while Mrs. Blumenschein, Jr., undergoes surgery.

Mrs. Ethel Wood, a housemother at Allendale school, left Sunday to go to Evanston to join her niece and both left Monday by plane to visit Mrs. Wood's sisters in Washington and Idaho for a month.

Graduation exercises were held Saturday at Allendale school and many of the boys have gone for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blumenschein entertained Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Camp, their two children, also Mrs. Camp, Sr., of San Diego, Calif., at their home a few days last week. They had visited at Barrington before coming here. Mrs. Camp, Jr., is a niece of Mr. Blumenschein.

Earl Hucker made a business trip to Detroit last week.

Mrs. Anna Nader visited her daughter, Mrs. Anna Almquist and family at Chippewa Falls, Wis., last week.

The Cedar Lake 4-H club held its weekly meeting last Monday, June 17, at the home of Dawn and Jacqueline Kosup. The topic for discussion was "Teeth," and Jacqueline Dalziel told how good teeth give one a physiological boost. Patsy Freund told of the importance of seeing your dentist regularly and Jean Burt had the subject "Don't forget to clean your teeth." Jean Hawkins and Anne Mattson will represent the group at the County Demonstration.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kirby and son and Jackie Kerr, of Bloomington, were guests at the William Weber home the first of the week.

Mrs. Apha Carson, of California, was guest of Mrs. William Weber, at her home a few days last week and leaves at the end of the week to join her husband, who is with the forestry department of the armed forces in Germany.

R. L. Gunnarson returned home Saturday after having visited in California at the home of his son and family. He returned west with them recently after their visit here.

A reception and miscellaneous shower will be given at the school gymnasium next Monday evening, July 1 to greet Rev. Pierson and his bride. The public is cordially invited.

Galveston on Island
Galveston, Texas, is located on an island in the Gulf of Mexico and is connected with the mainland by a railroad causeway, a highway bridge and a ferry.

BETTER LIVING CONDITIONS
FOR COWS MEAN EASIER,
MORE PROFITABLE FARMING
FOR YOU!

AUTOMATIC BARN CLEANER
saves hundreds of hours of back-breaking work in removing manure.

DRINKING FOUNTAINS
put more milk in the pail—more meat on animals—no work to you!

You'll be pleased, and your cows will, too, when you've installed an automatic barn cleaner and drinking fountains in the dairy barn.

With an Automatic Barn Cleaner you can banish barn drudgery and clean up the dirtiest job on the farm in a matter of minutes. Just a flip of a switch instantly starts the manure moving through both gutters, up and outside into the spreader. No shoveling... no watching—it's as easy as that! And here's more good news: Barn Cleaners can be installed in either old or new barns.

With Water Cups in your barn you can keep a constant supply of clean, fresh water before the cows at all times... low-cost water that fattens animals faster and ups milk yields. For only a few cents a day an electric running water system will perform dozens of other farm chores, will eliminate the daily grind of pumping and bucket-lugging.

Get All The Facts on these work-saving, profit-building electric helpers from your electric company's Farm Representative or from your local dealer. Now—when barns are used less frequently—is the most opportune time to add these improvements you've been waiting for so long!

Still Climbing! Electricity is now available to 91% of the farms in the area served by this company

Easy Does It! Tested and proven Automatic Barn Cleaner routs shovel-work... cleans gutters quickly and efficiently... gives years of dependable service.

Water Runs Into Profits when handy water cups provide cows with the gallons and gallons of thirst-quencher they need to step up milk production as much as 20%.

Escape to Home

By MIRIAM GILBERT

McClure Syndicate,
WNU Features.

HE CROSSED to the other side of Vine street so that the light from the lamp post wouldn't shine on his face. He glanced around furtively, his head low. The walk from the train depot to the center of town hadn't been bad, but now he had to cross Main street in order to get home.

Someone passed him and Tommy pulled up his coat collar. He wondered how he could slip past the theater. He decided to stroll casually. A sudden shout startled him. "Tommy, Tommy Mitchell," the blond cashier called.

Panic-stricken, Tommy started to run. Couldn't they leave him in peace?

This wasn't the way he wanted to come home. But they had invited trouble. They shouldn't have left him alone when they changed trains at Chicago. They had told him to hide in the shadows to avoid the crowd. It was easy then to jump back on the westbound train as it pulled out. They would be after him pretty soon, but in the meantime—

He swung open the front door. What would Ma say when she saw him? He tiptoed in and stood quietly in the kitchen doorway. Ma had her back to him and was stirring a cake batter. Alice's baby was sitting on a cushion on the floor. The baby looked up and spied Tommy. "Ganna, Ganna," he prattled. She turned around still mixing. "Tommy, my Tommy!"

He rushed forward as the bowl slipped from her hands. She clung to him, her hands running up and down his sleeve. "Why didn't you let us know somehow that you were coming home?"

He decided to stroll casually.

"I don't know how long I can stay, Ma, you see—"

"Here, take off your things. Alice is upstairs."

"Skipper's sure gotten big," Tommy swung the baby up in his arms.

"He was just a handful of pink flesh and blue eyes when I last saw him."

"Baby looks like Rick, doesn't he?" Ma said softly. "That's Alice's only consolation. Go up and say hello to her. I'll fix something for you to eat." Her fingers pressed deep into his arms. "You're thin as a scarecrow."

"Where's Dad?"

"Dad closed the garage, Ted was drafted and Dad can't find another mechanic to replace him. Ted's in the Pacific now," she added quietly.

"In the Pacific," Tommy ground out the words.

"I'm sorry, Tommy. Go up and see Alice."

He started up the steps, then turned back. "Ma, for tonight and maybe tomorrow, don't let any strangers in the house."

"I understand, Tommy. I'm proud of you no matter what."

He awoke with a start. His fingers touched the wall unbelievably. Rose-colored wallpaper. He was in his own room. He had spent one night at home.

Alice was sitting in the rocker.

"It's after eleven. Dad waited for you to get up, then went to the garage. He wants to talk to you. Tommy—"

He looked at her, then swallowed. "They sent someone after me."

She nodded. "Tommy, for Rick's sake and mine, go downstairs. People have to know the truth. Much as you hate it, tell them everything."

"I'll be down in a few minutes."

As soon as Ma heard him coming, she ran to him. "I couldn't chase him away, Tommy. He told me all about you, more than the newspapers did."

"It's all right, Ma." He turned to the man and sighed. "Hello, MacCarthy. Did you use bloodhounds to trace me?"

"No, just common sense. I figured you were homesick. Don't you realize you're the first man who escaped from the Jap prison camp on Corregidor? Now the others on the island are free but you're still the important one. It's as if you paved the way for them." He nodded. "We should have let you come home first but the people needed to hear your story right away. That's why we booked you solid for bond rallies and lectures."

"I won't run away again, MacCarthy. I needed one smell of home to make me mad all over again at what the Japs made me and mine lose." He swung around to MacCarthy. "O. K., what's the day's schedule?"

Spread Joy

Schiller, the great German poet, lost his health at 30, and during his remaining 15 years jam-packed his life with more intellectual achievement than any other man of his time. Weak, in pain, one lung adhering to his chest wall, no more shoulders than a banana, he worked 14 or more hours a day. His constant companions were his wife Charlotte, and suffering. Yet he wrote, not merely reams of poetry, but happy poetry.

Sort Screws

Save one-pound coffee jars for your handy man's work shop. Nail the covers of three or four under an easy-to-reach shelf. Sort out screws, nails, and what have you; file them, by size and kind in the jar; screw the jars with their contents to the covers.

Pack Roots

In planting a tree, make sure the soil is firmly packed around the roots. Test the tree by giving it a tug. The firmer the tree, the more likely it is to grow.

Overflowing Pie

Our grandmothers used to use a strip of cotton cloth moistened in cold water and fastened tight around the plate. This keeps the edge of the pie in place during baking. Some cooks insert a stiff paper funnel in the center of the top crust so that juice may rise in it without overflowing. Juicy fruit pies often run over because the pie maker tries to put too much filling into the pie.

Side-Dress Vegetables

Long-growing crops such as carrots, celery, etc., should be side-dressed at the same rate every three to five weeks. The plant food is distributed one-half on each side of the row, two to three inches away from stems. It is then lightly worked into the soil with a rake or cultivator. Before watering the garden is the best time to feed.

Food Waste

To avoid waste, don't pare vegetables thickly, don't discard wholesome edibles, and remember to drain and save your fats.

Careless Cooking

Much fat is wasted by careless cooking. Once fat has been scorched, overheated, or allowed to become rancid, it is good for nothing but soap making. In frying, heat should always be carefully watched to prevent wasteful scorching. To keep fat from turning rancid or becoming moldy, keep it dry, cold and covered in a dark place. Keep it in the refrigerator, if possible.

Rock Plant

Because of their vigorous growth, most chrysanthemums are not suited to use in the rock garden; but one of the perennial species, C. mawii, is an excellent rock plant. It makes a little clump of fern-like foliage 6 to 8 inches high and bears single, pink, daisy-like flowers 1½ inches across. As is true with all hardy 'mums, it requires good drainage and a sunny position.

South American Census

Following the United States pattern, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Peru and other South American countries have taken their census in one or more decennial years. But where United States censuses have broadened in scope to include such data as years of schooling, cost of dwelling and rent paid, consensus of South American countries have been too few and too incomplete to gauge population trends.

"It's coming, folks!"

MORE AND BETTER RURAL TELEPHONE SERVICE IS ON THE WAY!

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE trucks are a familiar sight along many rural roads these days. They're busy at work on our big $3,000,000 program to provide more and faster telephone service for farm and rural residents.

As part of this plan, construction charges for the building of rural telephone lines throughout our territory in Illinois have been reduced. This means that many rural people can now get telephones at lower initial cost than ever before.

Your local Bell Telephone business office will be glad to give you complete details:

Normandie Is Now Just Mass of Junk

Once Proud Liner May Never Put to Sea Again

NEW YORK. — The liner Normandie leaned sadly at her pier and navy experts said she may never put to sea again.

The 83,000-ton luxury ship, which won the blue pennant for her speedy crossing of the North Atlantic in 1935, still has a hangover from her dunking four years ago in the Hudson river when she caught fire and capsized. Frankly, the navy doesn't know what's to be done about her.

This glamour gal cost the French line 59 million dollars to build, it cost the navy 4½ million dollars to raise her from the Hudson, and now it costs the navy about 250 thousand dollars a year just to keep her hanging around.

"She's a bad luck ship and it serves her right to end up broke in Brooklyn, like any other wharf rat," one of the shipyard workers said. "The first time she came into New York she tried to knock down her brand new pier and to kill a man."

The navy gave her a new name—USS Lafayette — and tried to keep her a lady after it pulled her out of the Hudson, but now she's nothing but 30,000 tons of steel, bolts and bent wire.

Her insides are ripped out, as if a surgeon had clipped them, and they lie about neatly stacked in piles. The Winter Garden is packed with junk, as are the Terrace cafe and the once-famous dance hall.

Her cruiser bow is blunted, heavy with muck and rust. Her three slanted stacks are gone, part and parcel of somebody's junk yard, and the theater which used to seat 500 persons is just a memory.

On the outside, the Normandie resembles some vast stupid barge, or perhaps an odd-shaped mountain.

Recently the navy tried to persuade the war shipping administration to take her over, but the WSA said: "Nothing doing. She's too big to berth, and she's too expensive."

Now the navy, getting slightly desperate, just doesn't know what to do.

3-Day Housing Offered To Vets on Honeymoon

DANVILLE, ILL. — Three days in a honeymoon cottage in rustic Danville area setting were offered recently to veterans of World War II and their brides.

The man who made the offer through the Danville Commercial News prefers to remain anonymous. All a veteran has to do to obtain free use of the cottage is to write to the newspaper.

The owner of the cottage, whose son is a World War II veteran, said he took this means of expressing his gratitude to Vermillion county's fighting men.

New Infrared 'Eye' Can 'See' Miles in Dark

BALTIMORE. — An infra-red "eye," which can "see" in the dark for 10 to 15 miles, and which may have peacetime uses ranging from a burglar alarm to a weapon against cancer was disclosed recently.

The device, known as a superconducting bolometer, was the invention of a group of Johns Hopkins university chemists, headed by Dr. Donald H. Andrews, internationally noted in the field of low temperature chemistry.

Heretofore, the device was a war secret and some phases of it are still so classified.

Rolls Dice for 36 Hours; Good-by to $196,000!

RENO, NEV. — For 36 hours, on-lookers reported an unidentified man sat at a table and played dice, sending for coffee and never eating, and lost $196,000.

That comes to spending money at the rate of $5,444.44 an hour.

The game ended with a roll of a single dice. Each got an ace. In the roll-off, the house man got a trey, the guest—described as an easterner—a deuce.

Club owners would not identify the player nor confirm his losses.

Mail Ship In; G.I.s Get Heavy Load of Baseballs

TOKYO, JAPAN. — The Durham Victory arrived recently with 17,000 pounds of baseballs and 14,000 pounds of volleyballs but not much more than that total of first-class and air mail for troops starved for news of home. Servicemen, whose air mail virtually has been cut off by a shortage of fliers, eagerly had awaited arrival of the ship, which had been en route six weeks.

Find 65,000 Reindeer In Herds in Alaska

WASHINGTON. — A recent count of Alaska's reindeer showed about 65,000 in herds. In addition, the interior department reports, there are thousands of reindeer which have strayed and are running wild over tundras where a roundup is difficult. Reindeer are an important source of meat in Alaska.
